Aloha,

Although we are not in session, it's been a busy month for me as you can see by the various events that I have participated in. I try to keep up with what is going on in our community as much as possible. This month, our vice principal at Waipahu High School, Ms. Meryl Matsumura was recently recognized as Hawai'i's Assistant Principal of the Year by the Hawaii National Association of Secondary School Principals. She heads Waipahu High School's Academy of Natural Resources, which focuses on environmental stewardship, and this academy was recognized as the first nationally certified academy of its kind by the National Career Academy Coalition. Congratulations, on receiving this well-deserved honor!

Mahalo,

Clarence K Nishihara
